

Article I - Wealth

Concentrations of Wealth, Their Disruption to Democracy and Proposed Remedies

Article II - Democracy

Failures of Representative Democracy to Serve Its Electorate, and the Need for Expanded Direct Democracy and Civic Engagement at the Community Level

Article III - Environment

Unsustainable Depletion, Destruction and Pollution of Natural Environments, Resources and Ecosystems, and the Practices and Policies Necessary for Sustainable Systems

Article IV - Injury & Exploitation

Exploitation and Deception Of, and Injury To, the Worker-Consumer Class by the Owner-Shareholder Class, and the Consequent Necessity of Worker or Common Ownership of Production

Article V - Education

The Toxic Dangers of Ignorance, Moral Immaturity and Misinformation in a Functional Democracy, and the Need to Create Countervailing Informational and Educational Institutions

Article VI - Universal Social Backbone

Establishing a Social Credits System and Infrastructure and Essential Services Framework

Article VII - Property

The Relationship Between Property Position, Individual Liberty & Civic Responsibility

Article VIII - Markets

Replacing Individualistic Materialism with Collective Egalitarianism in Competitive Markets

Article IX - Money

Restructuring the Banking and Monetary Systems, and Reforming International Trade Relations

Article X - Militarism & WMD

Ending Militarism and WMD

Article XI - Equality

Equalizing Feminine and Masculine Power, Ending Institutional Bias, and Other Social Justice Considerations

Article XII - Health

Normalizing Public Mental, Emotional and Spiritual Health as Integral to Holistic Health